GIFT OF LIFE
TRANSPLANT HOUSE
A HOME THAT HELPS
AND HEALS

Life Is A Beautiful Melody

Becky and Fred McGuire have lived a life of adventure – from farming, to groundskeeping, to Alaska and finally to Rochester, MN. Their story is one of courage, tears, faith and triumph, but we're getting ahead of ourselves.

Becky and Fred were married in September, 1974 and farmed for 8 years. With a growing family of 3 daughters and one on the way, Becky and Fred moved to town, and began a lawn business. Shortly after Christmas that same year, Fred became the janitor for the local school. Life was good for the little family but a life-long dream of living in Alaska opened up for them and they seized the opportunity.

It was while in Alaska that Becky first heard that her liver counts were concerning to her doctors. She was to return in three weeks to have them checked but found herself hospitalized with blood loss due to her failing liver. She heard for the first time – “You will need a transplant”. Since there were no medical facilities doing transplants at the time in Alaska, Becky and Fred made the decision to move back to Minnesota and lived with dear friends until the family could get established.

Those were days of frequent doctor appointments, trips to the ER, phone calls from her now grown daughters asking if she had remembered to take her medications and waiting. The wait for a deceased liver donor can be up to a year, but Becky knew that to receive her gift of life, someone would have to lose theirs. She had heard of a living liver donor program at Mayo Clinic, but soon learned that Mayo Clinic was very hesitant to perform one. Her liver counts had to be critically low and throughout her wait, her numbers had been maintaining.

During this time, three of her daughters were tested to see if they could be her donor and none of them were the perfect match.

About this time, Becky's number dropped to critical levels and she and Fred moved in with her daughter Tiffeny and her husband. Even though the grandchildren were young, they realized that grandma needed to rest and often played quietly. The pain Becky experienced was becoming more intense and every day she was feeling more and more fatigued, sick and forgetful. She knew she would soon need a miracle.

Their daughter Jennifer had signed up to go to Kenya as part of a short-term mission trip and while there, she shared her mom's situation and asked for prayer. A young woman named Kimberly listened intently and the next morning approached Jennifer. Unbelievably, she said that she believed she was the one who was supposed to be Becky's donor. True to her word, when the group returned to the States, Kimberly called Mayo Clinic to inquire about becoming a living liver donor. She persisted in asking if she could be tested and she was accepted to be evaluated. The results showed she was the perfect match for Becky, but Mayo Clinic was insistent on one more requirement. She would need to meet Becky! Amazingly, Becky and Kimberly had never met and Mayo Clinic wanted to be certain there wasn't going to be an exchange of money or gifts in return for the liver. They were soon assured that there was no impropriety and the transplant was scheduled for April 8, 2011.

That was nine years ago and throughout the years, Becky, Fred and her family have supported Gift of Life Transplant House by bringing loads of wish list items and even preparing a meal for our guests! Perhaps the most unique way in which they have supported Gift of Life Transplant House was through Fred's work at ServiceMaster. Fred provides training to insurance agents and due to COVID, had to resort to virtual trainings. As part of the training, Fred tells the story of Becky and Gift of Life Transplant House and then he asks his classes if they would consider donating the training fee to Gift of Life Transplant House. Those donations totaled $1,845!

Becky recently shared her story at a church in their community and she ended her story by reminding us that hearing just one note on the piano may be nice, but it takes many notes to make a melody! Becky's life has been a mixture of many notes, combinations of major and minor chords, forming a melody that is sincere, faith-filled and beautiful!

TOGETHER WE CAN

Navigating COVID-19 at Gift of Life Transplant House

Since March, 2020 our motto has been Together We Can. With the cooperation of our guests, caregivers, staff and volunteers, we remain confident that we can:

- Keep Gift of Life Transplant House open
- Alleviate stress and anxiety of guests and caregivers
- Stop Coronavirus at the front doors
- Continue to employ our staff

But you may be wondering how COVID has impacted our daily routines and our events.

DAILY CLEANING ROUTINES

Our cleaning and sanitation standards have always been exceptional, but with COVID, we added on the hour disinfecting of all the high touch areas in the house.

GUEST EXPECTATIONS

Guests, caregivers, staff and volunteers are required to wear masks throughout the house. The only exceptions are when a meal is being enjoyed or a guest and caregiver are in their guest room.

EVENTS IN 2020

In July, we held our 36th Annual Golf Tournament, but with thoughtful precautions taken to safeguard our attendees. Staggered tee times kept teams separated; masks and hand sanitizers were provided for each golfer; a partition in the golf carts separated individual golfers and a meal served by the Country Club staff outside as golfers finished kept the group to no more than 25 at a time, and only 4 to a table.

The weather was outstanding and it was a great day!

An outdoor event was not possible for either our Culinary Showdown or our Gala, so we chose alternatives.

Our Culinary Showdown featured a special event for our Corporate Partners. They received a Private Virtual Chef Class with Pasquale of Pasquale's Pizzeria in Rochester that could be watched as well as all the fixings for one of his outstanding pizzas!

And our Gala theme Thank You For Not Coming featured a Virtual Gala that included host James Rabe of KROC, the musical talents of Kimberly Collins, Gary and Kelsi Stacken and our Mennonite singers as well as testimonial videos of our guests!

One event that was deeply missed this year was the GOL 5k Walk & Run. This event has been planned and run by former guest AJ Patrick and more recently by members of the Rochester community. However, this year, due to COVID, we weren't able to host the event!

WHAT DOES THE FUTURE HOLD FOR GIFT OF LIFE TRANSPLANT HOUSE?

While we can't predict where COVID will take us in the coming year, we are certain that Gift of Life Transplant House will continue to provide high quality, affordable accommodations for transplant patients and their caregivers in a supportive, home-like environment.

Your support during this difficult time has given us the energy and courage to continue moving forward and we are so grateful!

Thank You.

CREATIONS TO INSPIRE

Lizete came to Gift of Life Transplant House with her mom in May of 2019. When she arrived at Gift of Life Transplant House, her mother noticed several painted rocks around the house and thought it'd be something fun for Lizete to do.

Lizete and her sister took turns staying overnight at the hospital with her mom. "It wasn't until my mother got her new liver and was discharged to the Gift of Life that I began painting the rocks." While staying at the Edward and Jayne Pompeian Home (705 House), she went to the craft room and found paint brushes and paint. The first rock was commemorative of her mom's liver transplant day, May 5, 2019. She then began painting images she found online, soon creating a trail of rocks on the front porch.

"My inspiration to make these rocks was my mother and I know they bring her so much happiness," Lizete said. She created the rocks for people to enjoy, whether they find one they want to take or just enjoy them on the Gift of Life Transplant House grounds.

Lizete is in her final year of nursing school in El Paso, Texas after putting her school on pause in 2019. She will continue coming to Minnesota every summer to visit her mom and is so grateful she had a safe place to heal. "I am glad to call the Gift of Life house my home away from home when my mother has appointments. Everyone is very welcoming and the staff is amazing. The Gift of Life house gave me and my family so much comfort. I was scared and worried about my mother and just being at the house had such a warm and comforting feeling because I knew that everyone there was going through something similar and now I hope that anyone that walks to the Gift of Life can spot a painted rock and have it brighten their day."

FACILITIES

NEW MATTRESSES have been delivered to our Edward and Jayne Pompeian Home, thanks to the Special Appeal from our 2019 Golf Tournament, a grant from the Carl and Verna Schmidt Fund and generous donations. The mattresses had last been replaced in 2015. The new mattresses have been appreciated by all – thank you for making this possible. MATTRESSES will be replaced next year at the Anne and Henry Zarrow Home.

A NEW RETAINING WALL at 705 will be built along 1st Street SW, again thanks to a generous donation!

A NEW ROOF and dormers were replaced at the Edward and Jayne Pompeian Home this summer, thanks to a generous donation from the Tisi Family Foundation. And a special thanks to API Supply, who donated the use of a lift truck for the entire project!

OPERATIONS

OUR MENNONITE VOLUNTEERS continue to cheerfully support the operations at both 705 and 724, cleaning, doing laundry and even entertaining us with their lovely harmonious music as they work.

OCCUPANCY at Gift of Life Transplant House has varied, rising to pre-COVID levels and dipping to just under 70%. Our commitment is to remain open no matter what our occupancy may be.

ADJUST YOUR TRAJECTORY

"I am now the caretaker of my organs. The way I show gratitude is by taking care of them," Amanda, a double organ transplant recipient and guest of Gift of Life Transplant House shared recently.

A competitive athlete for most of her life, Amanda often felt fearless. When she went into kidney failure and her life was threatened after being diagnosed with double diabetes - a rare condition where she was diagnosed with both type 1 and type 2 diabetes, Amanda said it was the most terrifying, yet humbling, experience she had. With a life threatening diagnosis, it sparked a reminder that we are truly human - realizing how often we take for granted the thought that our bodies will be here forever.

Amanda had been a regular blood donor throughout high school and college and made sure she had "checked the box" to be identified as an organ donor. So, when she received her diagnosis, it was a shock to her, her friends and family. Her health rapidly declined, and in November of 2019, Amanda received a double organ transplant - a pancreas and kidney.

Anyone who has been part of a transplant journey understands the power of resiliency. After long days at the clinic, learning that going home is not an option, receiving a secondary diagnosis that stutters progress, Amanda says it is important to hang on to the words and the support that bring hope. For Amanda, those words were "You have to want this life; you have to choose life."

Dual rejection was not something Amanda ever imagined she would have to go through, and not something she wanted to share, especially with fellow transplant recipients. So many emotions were running through her mind, fear and uncertainty being the most prominent. But her motto pushed her forward and she was determined to find her new trajectory.

" There's so many things you don't expect, like the relationships you build. I honestly think I'll befriends with them for the rest of our lives."

Gift of Life Transplant House was the safe place she did not know she needed. Amanda shares, "We can be honest here - it's okay to have good days and bad days. It's a safe place to be vulnerable and be open." She also revels in the community and support that is undeniable at the house, "Your story is yours; it allows a connection as humans. Our stories are different, but the feelings are similar." Patients can connect and comfort one another after difficult news, rejoice in good news and support each other through navigating all the unknowns that come with transplantation.

Amanda has met people from all walks of life with whom she never would have crossed paths; from dialysis with a chef, Chinese professor, veteran, and pastor to her "kidney sisters"- two ladies she bonded and connected with while staying at Gift of Life Transplant House over their shared experience. "If you don't know what this world is like, you can't even begin to imagine...There's so many things you don't expect, like the relationships you build. I honestly think I'll be friends with them for the rest of our lives."

Amanda was inspired to share her story to shed light on the side of transplantation that is more difficult to talk about. She hopes to encourage more compassion to all those working on the transplant team as patients navigate the many unknowns, inspire gratitude to those blessed with their gift of life and tasked as the caretaker of a new organ(s), and remind us that we have the ability to enrich and change the lives of everyone we encounter. She reminds us to choose life and adjust our trajectory to align with what we want our lives to look like amidst our new and often unexpected circumstances.

ROD ANDERSON MEMORIAL AWARD 2020

The Rod Anderson Award is presented at our Annual Golf Tournament to a volunteer who embodies a few of the characteristics of Rod, an avid supporter, board member and board president of Gift of Life Transplant House. These characteristics include, selflessness, humility and kindness.

This year, Julie Anderson, Rod's wife, presented the award to Elke, who started volunteering with us in 2018. Since then, she has spent many hours volunteering as office support and is willing to help in anyway needed! Originally from Germany, Elke is an adventurous soul who has traveled to many places around the world.

Our gratitude for Elke cannot be put into words! It was an honor to present her with this award. Thank you for all you do. We don't know where we would be without you!

Meet Otto & Veronica

Veronica Marjamaa thought she was feeling fine when she headed to her annual physical in the first month of the year. However, her doctor came back with tests which revealed high calcium and instructed her to go straight to the Fargo Hospital. Upon meeting with a doctor at the Fargo Hospital, she learned that she was diagnosed with multiple myeloma. She soon began chemotherapy at the cancer center, knowing she was in good hands. Her trusted doctor soon recommended Mayo Clinic for a stem cell treatment after 5 months of chemotherapy.

Veronica and her husband, Otto, heard about Gift of Life Transplant House when they first arrived at Mayo and met with their social worker. They decided Gift of Life was the place they wanted to stay.

Veronica was the recipient of a Tandem

Stem Cell Treatment which is two stem cell treatments 60 days apart. Her first stem cell transplant was on July 27 with her 2nd on September 28. She felt good after the first transplant. Although there were zero cancer cells remaining, the tandem would provide 75% more longevity to her remission.

After experiencing the first transplant, she gained confidence and comfort coming back to Mayo and Gift of Life Transplant House for the second time. She and Otto knew what the process was going to be like and had a good idea of how she would feel after the second transplant. They also knew the expectations of Gift of Life Transplant House, and looked forward to coming back to the comradery. Veronica appreciates the support during her recovery, "It's been very nice here. I feel comfortable. It makes me feel more at home than a hospital or hotel especially with the guests & caregivers here." She goes on to say "everyone is willing to share their ups and downs and tears and laughter."

Otto has been Veronica's rock during this time. They've been married for 47 years and have supported one another through everything. Prior to Veronica's diagnosis, Otto had just recovered from his own cancer in 2019. As her caregiver, Otto says she has been an easy patient to care for.

While they've felt comfort at Gift of Life Transplant House during Veronica's transplant journey, especially in the time of COVID-19, they are eager to get back to their home in Detroit Lakes and continue their preparations for the winter months.

They keep each other in good spirits and are grateful for everyone they have met and supported during their stay.

TRAILS4TRANSPLANTS

• GOES VIRTUAL •

I will admit when I first heard that T4T was going virtual, I thought – “Well, now that is the kind of horseback riding I can do!” But I soon learned that this committed and highly creative group had a bit more sophisticated plan in mind than my idea of a coin-operated pony in front of the grocery store!

Trails4Transplants is a long-distance, multiple-week long trail ride to raise awareness about organ, eye and tissue donation. T4T also raises donations for Gift of Life Transplant House. In 2019, the group celebrated the culmination of their goal of a 6-year ride, covering 2,000 miles with a party in Rochester, MN!

The 2020 ride was to have been held in Pine County, MN, but with the restrictions imposed because of COVID, the organizers decided to ask small groups of riders to document their rides. 5 groups of riders formed up from East Central Minnesota, Northwest Minnesota, Mandan, North Dakota, Duluth, Minnesota and St. Anthony, North Dakota, with names like: Green Scarf Bandits, North Woods Group, Hille Group, and East Central Outlaws! And at the conclusion an impressive 2,663 horse miles (132 miles) had been ridden by 74 individuals and $25,000 was raised!

Here are some “thoughts from the trails”: “My life has been spared because someone chose to be a donor. Participating in Trails4Transplants is a way to honor my donor and help countless others who are still waiting for a life-saving transplant!” DH, T4T Rider, Volunteer, Grateful Liver Recipient and Former Gift of Life Transplant House guest

We are so honored to call T4T our friends and partners!
